Claudia Mehrabian

is the Manager, Business Development at Lenczner Slaght.

Claudia supports the firm's business development initiatives, including planning and executing individual and practice group plans, developing strategies to build external visibility, advancing client engagement initiatives, and identifying opportunities that align with the firm's growth strategy. She works closely with lawyers and practice groups to strengthen market presence, expand their professional networks, and translate complex legal expertise into clear and compelling narratives that resonate with clients and the market.

With experience spanning both law firm and corporate environments, Claudia takes a thoughtful and collaborative approach to her work. She has supported a range of high-impact marketing and communications initiatives in fast-paced settings, contributing to efforts that advance client engagement and strategic positioning.

Claudia also brings a distinctive combination of legal training and business development acumen to her role. Claudia holds an LLB and previously worked at a boutique criminal law firm, where she supported litigators on matters from preparation through to resolution, including court attendance and trial support. This experience gave her a practical understanding of litigation and the demands of legal practice, which continues to inform her approach to working within the legal industry.
