Jenna Ferrelli

is a summer student at Lenczner Slaght.

Jenna is completing her JD at Osgoode Hall Law School, where she has developed a strong foundation in advocacy and dispute resolution. She has strengthened this foundation through clinical work as a student intern at the Barbra Schlifer Commemorative Clinic. Working within the Criminalization of Women and Survivorship Project, she supported survivors of gender-based violence and critically analyzed policy objectives aimed at addressing the systemic criminalization of survivors.

Jenna has further strengthened her advocacy skills through participation in competitive mooting and negotiation. She competed in the Walsh Family Negotiation Competition, advanced as a semi-finalist in the Dentons Negotiation Competition, and placed in the top 20 at the Lerner's Cup Moot. In her first year of law school, she was awarded both the Fasken Prize in Torts and the Allen M. Linden Memorial Prize for achieving the highest academic standing in Torts.

Prior to law school, Jenna completed an Honours Bachelor of Arts at McMaster University, majoring in Justice, Political Philosophy, and Law. Outside of the classroom, she serves as the Design Coordinator for the Osgoode Fashion Law Society and draws on eight years of experience coaching youth volleyball.
