MONIQUE JILESEN

is Managing Partner at Lenczner Slaght.

"She is very client-focused, personable and strategic." —
Chambers Canada

Monique is one of Canada's leading litigators who clients turn to for their toughest commercial disputes. Her practice focuses on class actions, contract and shareholder disputes, civil fraud cases, injunctions, professional liability, bankruptcy and insolvency matters, and securities and derivatives cases.

Monique is a fearless advocate, unafraid to take on tough, notable, and high-profile cases, even at a moment's notice. She was counsel to the Ukrainian World Congress in an application for judicial review of Canada's decision to allow the delivery of turbines to Germany for use by a sanctioned Russian company. In Li v Barber, she successfully secured an unprecedented Mareva order freezing up to $20 million of assets and cryptocurrency of Freedom Convoy leaders. She also represented Douglas Cardinal in an injunction to restrain the use in Canada of the Cleveland baseball team's racist name and logo on human rights grounds.

Recognized for her exceptional work, Monique was previously awarded The Advocates' Society's prestigious Douglas K. Laidlaw Award for Excellence in Advocacy. In 2023, Monique was named Litigator of the Year at the Canadian Law Awards and one of the Top 50 Most Influential by Toronto Life. Monique is also a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers and the International Academy of Trial Lawyers.

Monique is co-leader of the firm's Commercial Litigation practice group and a member of the Commercial List Users' Committee. In 2018, she developed commercialist.com, an award-winning website that serves as a one-stop shop for all things Commercial List.

As the firm's Managing Partner, Monique is at the forefront of executing the firm's strategy, building an innovative mindset across the firm, and nurturing its high-performing and inclusive culture.

- The LCO's Class Actions Final Report: The Defence Perspective – As has now been widely reported, the Law Commission of Ontario has released its final report on class actions which makes recommendations to improve the system of class actions in Ontario. Our colleagues, Brian Kolenda and Derek Knoke, commented on those that will be of interest to plaintiffs in their blog post here. We provide the defence counsel perspective here.
- The Rules of Evidence Still Apply in PMNOC Section 8 Cases – It's no surprise to litigators that some courts tend to be relaxed with the rules of evidence in civil cases. In many contexts, courts are prepared to admit inadmissible hearsay evidence and simply address evidentiary concerns by noting that such evidence may be given less weight. That type of approach was often taken in cases under section 8 of the Patented Medicine (Notice of Compliance) Regulations.
- The weight of the corporate veil: It will be lifted with only the strongest tools – The "corporate veil" is an old and well-established concept. Corporations are separate legal entities under the law and, generally, liability will not flow through the corporation and onto the owners and directors. This is why a corporate bankruptcy doesn't result in a flurry of debt collectors knocking on the door of every shareholder.

Monique Jilesen, a partner at Lenczner Slaght Royce Smith Griffin LLP, says lawyers must tread carefully when they get into the merits of a proposed class action, even as early as certification, as parties try to get as much information as possible.

That’s especially the case with expert witnesses, since Canadian procedure doesn’t usually have discovery of expert witnesses in advance of trial.

“It was just a disproportionate request to what was being asked,” Jilesen says, who was not involved in the case.
