Corey McClary Named LMG Life Sciences Rising Star

We are proud to announce that Corey McClary has been recognized as a Rising Star at the 2026 Life Sciences Americas Awards.

Corey is Counsel at Lenczner Slaght and a key member of the firm's Intellectual Property Group. His practice is primarily focused on intellectual property law, with an emphasis on pharmaceutical patent litigation.

"Corey is an exceptional IP litigator whose expertise in complex life sciences matters sets him apart," says Monique Jilesen, Managing Partner at Lenczner Slaght. "His deep understanding of both the science and the law, combined with his dedication to our clients, makes him a tremendous asset to our team. This recognition as a Rising Star is a well-deserved reflection of his outstanding contributions to the field."

Corey has extensive experience advising clients on complex, high-stakes disputes, including actions under the Patented Medicines (Notice of Compliance) Regulations, patent infringement and impeachment actions, and judicial review proceedings. He also regularly provides strategic patent and regulatory advice. His work with experts and inventors is particularly noteworthy, as he skillfully bridges complex scientific and legal concepts in a comprehensive and understandable manner.

Corey holds a Ph.D. in organic chemistry. His graduate research focused on developing methods for the regioselective functionalization of carbohydrates and measuring the strength of non-covalent interactions, and his research has been published in peer-reviewed scientific journals. His strong scientific credentials, combined with his legal acumen in intellectual property and related regulatory matters, bring exceptional value to our clients.

In addition to Corey's recognition, Lenczner Slaght was shortlisted for Patent Litigation Firm of the Year at this year's awards gala, reflecting our team's deep patent expertise, technical knowledge of sophisticated life sciences products, and the advocacy skills to protect them.

Congratulations to Corey on this well-deserved recognition!

ABOUT THE LIFE SCIENCES AMERICAS AWARDS

The Life Sciences Americas Awards recognize the region’s most distinguished practitioners and their firms for their exemplary work in the life sciences legal practice. After months of research and submission reviews, the Life Sciences team set out to uncover the most impactful cases, deals, and the lawyers and law firms behind them from across the United States, Canada, and Brazil. The awards ceremony honors the law firms, lawyers, and in-house teams who have led in key practice specialisms within the life sciences industry.
