It's game on in bet-the-company litigation

Tom Curry was quoted in an article on canadianlawyermag.com where he was joined by the Honourable Justice Colin L. Campbell, Q.C. and Greg MacKenzie, General Counsel for 407ETR on a panel at the April 7, 2014 CCCA National Conference moderated by Marguerite Ethier.

"When it comes to high-stakes litigation in-house counsel play a critical role in the outcome but experts say they need to know the important steps in the battle plan..."

...For better or for worse when dealing with a case of a certain importance, this is your moment whether you like it or not," said Gregory MacKenzie, general counsel, 407 ETR Concession Co. Ltd., speaking during a session called "A Bird's-Eye View of High Stakes Litigation" at the Canadian Corporate Counsel Association's national meeting in Calgary last week...."
