Judge Makes Strong Statements on Warrantless Entries

Paul-Erik Veel was quoted in the Law Times article Judge Makes Strong Statements on Warrantless Entries on March 24, 2014.

"The Ontario Superior is drawing a strict boundary on when police can enter people's houses without a search warrant, two recent cases show.

The court overturned two convictions in the last few weeks in cases involving men found guilty of assaulting police officers who tried to enter their homes without a warrant..."
