LMG Life Sciences Highlights Lenczner Slaghtâ€™s Expertise in Patent Litigation

Lenczner Slaght is proud to once again be recognized for its patent litigation expertise in the latest edition of LMG Life Sciences, following extensive qualitative research informed by client and peer feedback

In addition to the firm's continued ranking, Sana Halwani, Jordana Sanft, Andrew Moeser, and Martin Brandsma are recognized among the best of those practicing in the life sciences industry. Our intellectual property lawyers combine deep patent expertise with the technical knowledge to understand complex life sciences products and the advocacy skills to protect them successfully.

We were also proud to be shortlisted for two awards this year:

- Patent Litigation Firm of the Year (Canada)
- Patent Litigator of the Year (Canada) – Sana Halwani

Congratulations to all who are recognized!
