LMG Life Sciences Recognizes Lenczner Slaghtâ€™s Patent Litigation Expertise

Following an extensive qualitative research process that included peer and client feedback, Lenczner Slaght is proud to be ranked for its patent litigation expertise in the latest edition of LMG Life Sciences.

In addition to the firm's ranking, Sana Halwani and Jordana Sanft are recognized among the best of those practicing in the life sciences industry. Our intellectual property lawyers have the technical expertise necessary to understand any life sciences product, and the trial experience and advocacy expertise to protect them successfully.

We were also proud to be shortlisted for two awards this year:

- Patent Litigation Firm of the Year (Canada)
- Patent Litigator of the Year (Canada) – Jordana Sanft

Congratulations to all who are recognized!
