

Donya Tamehi
416-475-7529
dtamehi@litigate.com

July 3, 2024

R v Abdullahi: The (In)Flexibility of the Appellate Review of Jury Instructions

Donya Tamehi authored an article for Osgoode's legal commentary blog, theCourt.ca. The article comments on how the Supreme Court's decision in R v Abdullahi underscores the importance of clear, judge-led jury instructions on complex legal definitions. (Prior to joining Lenczner Slaght)

Continue reading:

<https://www.yorku.ca/osgoode/thecourt/2024/06/03/r-v-abdullahi-the-inflexibility-of-the-appellate-review-of-jury-instructions/>