

Sarah Millar
416-865-2948
smillar@litigate.com

December 4, 2017

Standards may require technical competence

Sarah Millar is quoted in the Law Times article Standards may require technological competence on December 4, 2017. This article discusses the proposed amendment to the baseline standards of professionalism for lawyers to include technological competence.

Continue reading: https://www.lawtimesnews.com/author/dale-smith/standards-may-require-technological-competence-15033/